

Diggy Diggy Hole

In the valleys at night, where wonders were lost, silence's knowledge is

God's heavenly cost.

For years the secrets of amber and jade, what remains is what lies today:

Suspended in light, evils unfold, encapsulated in deep dark cold.

Pre Riddle Guide:

1. Youngest Pharaoh of Egypt

Answer: Tutankhamun

2. The chronicles of the two godlings of Riordan's fantasy.

Answer: Kane

3. Truth, Balance, Morality.

Answer: Maat

4. The torn out optic of sacrifice

Answer: Wadjet

5. The world below ours

Answer: Duat

6. Hellenic lord of our dead and a bull

Answer: SERAPIS

7. Son of Amun, our liberator

Answer: Alexander

8. Our river of life

Answer: Nile

Using various clues hinted by each location's flavor text, one should arrive at the conclusion that they need to index the first letter of every seventh word:

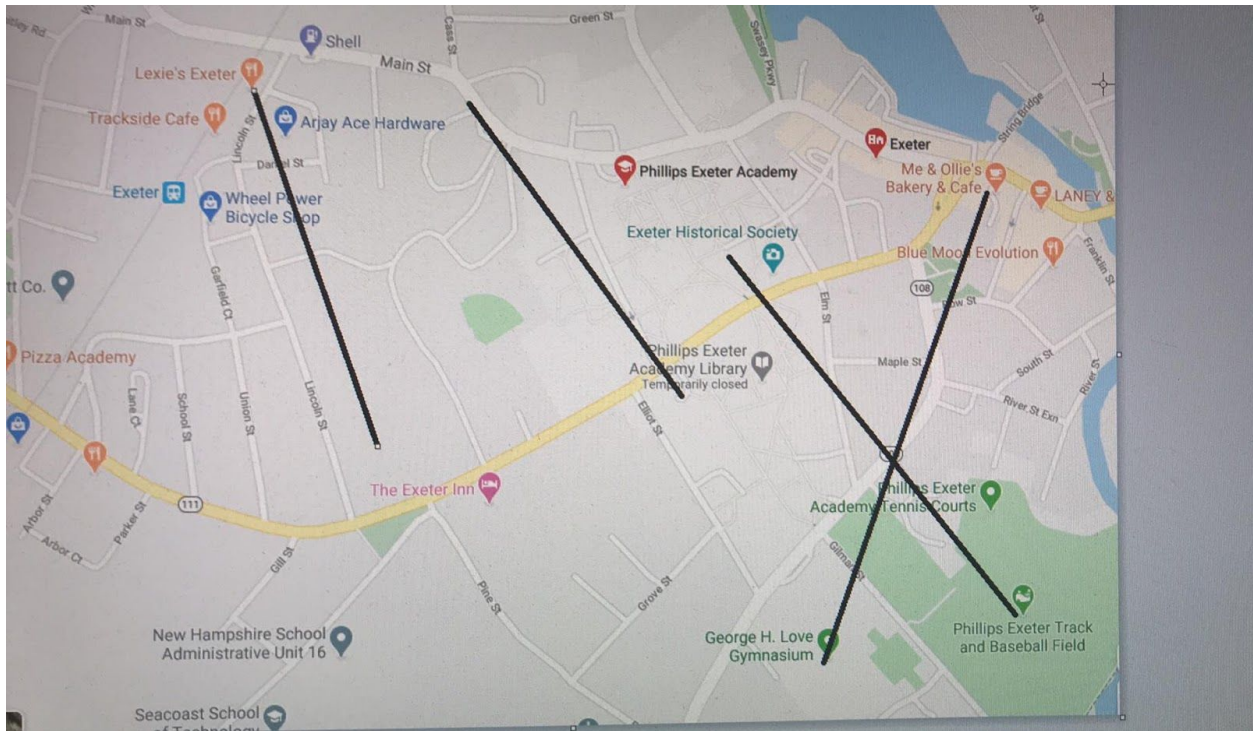

In the valleys at night, where wonders were lost, silence's knowledge is God's heavenly cost.

For years the secrets of amber and jade, what remains is what lies today:

Suspended in light, evils unfold, encapsulated in deep dark cold.

The Nile's Battle was hard fought, led by our true Queen Cleopatra and the Roman Man : Caesar fought by Cleopatra's side (caesar cipher?)

Our mathematicians adopted Roman numerals, but of course they were not as well versed as their creators: the IIX made by the lines is a very bad 8, which is the number they should shift by 8

Our cartographers recognized the sanctity of connection and lines. They would frequently plot them out on maps: connect places on a map

The Suidae were our most prized possession. Only the nobles possessed suidae pens not for food, but for show: Suidae = pig, so pig pen should hint to pig pen cipher

There is a certain order to things, hinted by their sequential relation in their language. Only then will the lines appear: works in tandem with map making. Each location has a certain symbol in different languages. Connect the places that have symbols of similar languages

When you look at the bigger picture, perhaps it will elucidate your understanding:
For god's sake just look at a goddamn map

Given the text with Me And Ollies, one should arrive at Bpnmqzabwnmdmzgamdmbpewzl for their translation, which after a shift of 8 makes Thefirstofeveryseventhword

This gives WHALE

After some trial and error, they should input WHALE into the secret compartment at the bottom (???????)

This opens up the secret locations

A Pharaoh's Kingship

Answer: CROOK

In Pig pen spells out Every Th Word

References the need to use every sixth word of the flavorpoem

The Fertility of Land

Answer: FLAIL

The old line must go and be replaced by its intermediates until it is whole again:

Break the line between Lexi's and St. Michaels (1 and 2) to replace them sequentially with (1, 1.33, 1.66, and 2) to make an S looking shape

